The Mellon Public Humanities Grant at Hunter College

ANNOUNCEMENT

SEEKING publicly engaged Humanities students at Hunter

Have you declared a major in a department or program associated with the Humanities: Art, Classics, Literature, Music, Philosophy, Religion, Theatre, or one of the many other humanistic disciplines at Hunter?

Are you interested in connecting Humanities scholarship with publicly relevant issues?

Would you like to work with a faculty member in the Humanities over the next academic year on a Public Humanities project for the public good and EARN $3,000?

Then Apply!

The Mellon Public Humanities Project at Hunter seeks to promote research on public good themes, and to help talented, ambitious students develop their skills in preparation for graduate school or other career aspirations.

The application deadline is April 29, 2019 and a completed application will include:

*a personal statement up to 200 words describing who you are and why you want to pursue a public humanities project

*a description of no more than 500 words on your topic of interest and the ideas you would like to develop with a faculty mentor

*a letter of recommendation from a faculty member, emailed from them separately to: carolyn.mcdonough@hunter.cuny.edu

The application can be accessed at: https://ww3.hunter.cuny.edu/provost/view.php?id=19345
